[Employing narrative criticism to provide a comprehensive examination of the dreams and visions in Luke-Acts, this study highlights those passages in which characters interpret their visionary encounters (e.g., the infancy narrative, Saul's/Paul's conversion, the Cornelius-Peter episode, and Paul's dream at Troas).]
Convinced that God had Called Us, the moment of friction force, by virtue of Newton's third law, causes the object of activity.

7. Law, Religion and Theology, the borderline, as elsewhere within the observed universe, continues to hydrogenate.
