Abstract : The Seoul Olympics was the pivotal point for South Korean tourism and heralded a period of unprecedented growth. It also coloured industry thinking on the strategic development of tourism in South Korea. However, despite events such as the Taejon Expo '93 and Visit Korea Year 1994, the industry has stagnated for the last three years; visitor numbers reached 3.6 million in 1994, some 1 million short of the official target. Nevertheless the government has committed itself to making tourism one of the strategic industries to take South Korea into the 21st century and has set a goal of 7 million arrivals and $10 000 million in tourism receipts by 2001. In order to do this...
