Title: Teaching art: academies and schools from Vasari to Albers

Author: GOLDSTEIN, Carl

Publication year: 1996

Language: English

Abstract: Examines the history of art training from within the history of teaching in the Renaissance tradition, copying (from the master, after the antique, and from the live model), the relation of art to science, the question of style, the meaning of 'imitation' and 'originality'. After a discussion of Bauhaus teaching, examines the teaching of Josef Albers and responses to it by his former pupils. Concludes with an overview of current methods for the teaching of art at the university level and their impact on contemporary art.
